European Network Advocacy
European Union – Latin America

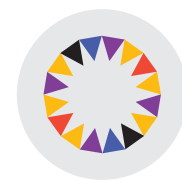

Human Rights and Justice Defenders

We aim to promote respect for human rights and the protection of the work of defenders of human rights. We work so that this topic is included as a priority in bi-regional relations.

What we do?

We aim to promote participatory policies in the European Union, with a gender perspective, contributing to the comprehensive respect for human rights, democratization and sustainable development in Latin America.

Right to Food, Land and Territory

We promote respect for international laws regarding indigenous and peasant peoples in order to ensure and protect access to food, land ownership and territory. We work so that this topic is included as a priority in bi-regional relations.

Right to a Life Free of Violence

We seek to eradicate all violence against women, particularly femicide and the criminalization of women human rights defenders. We work so that this topic is included as a priority in bi-regional relations.
